

VIANDER[®]

il Mangiarbene

Viander is an Italian Food Company established in Umbria (Torgiano), green heart of Italy, since 1999. It is one of the main Food service and Catering companies in Italy providing more than 25.000 customers all over the world with a range of more than 800 different products. Currently our export department attends more than 30 countries in Europe and all over the world.

Viander group is composed of Viander Spa, 5 branches located in Italy that develop business in the Italian territory and 2 factories specialized in the production of canned vegetables and Italian food speciality.

At the beginning of 2011, Viander Group established a new branch in Florida to meet the demanding American market. The new branch called Viander USA was founded in the strategic city of Miami with the same business scheme, efficiency and food quality as it's headquarter located in Italy.

Viander USA can provide and satisfy every requirement of restaurants, pizzerias, hotels, retailer and resorts in terms of quality, variety and service.

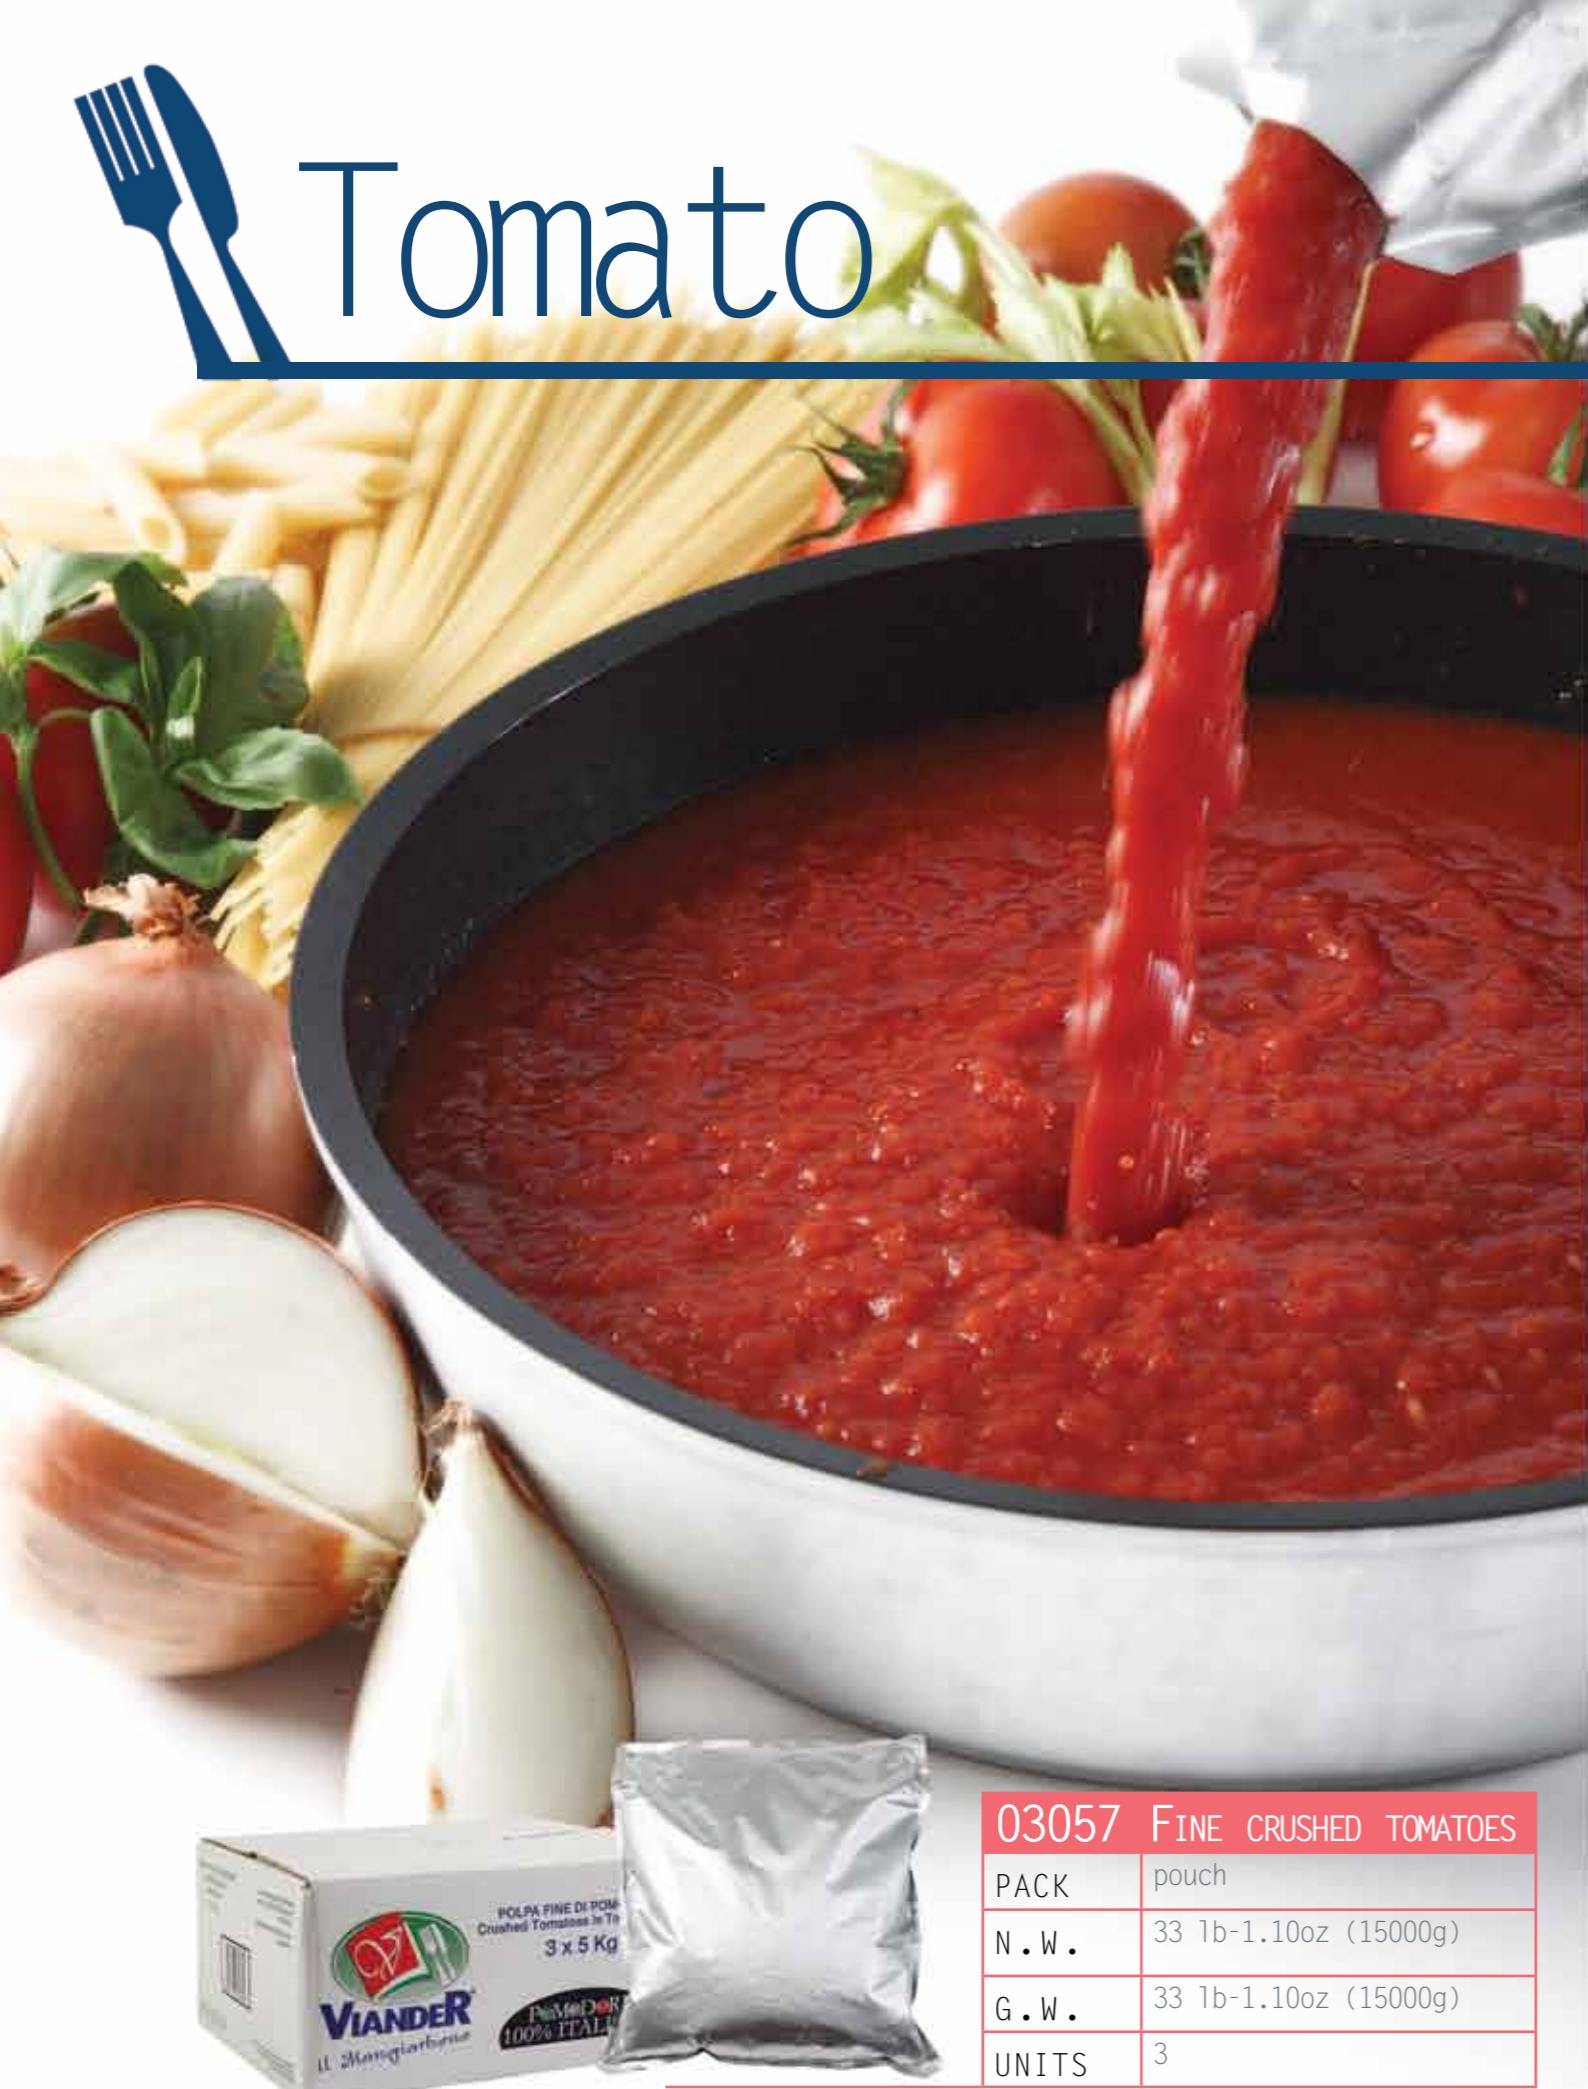

At the moment Viander USA covers south Florida's Market, however as our market presence grows it will expand to the entire country.

Italian Flavoured Excellent Taste

Tomato

High quality, high traceability, high cooking performance, together with the most evolved safety standards, make Viander “red range” a great choice for an excellent cuisine: starting from classic peeled tomatoes (pulp and paste), to more particular Cherry and Datterini tomatoes, right up to speciality items like chopped tomatoes in oil, semi-dried and dried tomatoes.

Viander chooses only 100% guaranteed Italian tomatoes.

Artichokes

The attentive selection of raw materials together with the immediate working by hand, fresh cooking and centrifugation give us a fragrant white product, free from leaves and from hard and stringy parts. Once these processes have been performed, we can provide any artichoke size using different kinds of preservations: natural, in oil, semi-dried, grilled, etc.

That's why Viander can say to have a top quality, freshly worked product.

Mushrooms

The natural environment of mushrooms is without doubts the forests where Chestnuts, Oaktrees, Beeches and Fir trees form their ideal habitat. The absolute “star” of this great family is PORCINO mushroom. After gathering, Viander performs the delicate operation of selecting the best ones, preparing them for the various applications and processing them in order to make them safe and available at any time of the year. Naturally preserved or kept in oil, in addition to Porcini, the range includes Finferli, Chiodini and various mixtures of mushrooms.

Freeze dried

Great popularity of freeze-dried products is due to their easy preservation (at room temperature) and storage (very light). The high level of hygiene makes them one of the most effective methods in food preparation for new-born babies. Once in contact with water, freeze-dried food regains all of its consistency without needing of further ingredients addition.

Stocks

Stocks, whether vegetable, meat or fish, are the basis for all types of cuisine. Thanks to these hot-water soluble products, everything is quicker and easier in just a minute: preparing first courses, risottos, sauces, cooling fish or meat. The deep brown type enriches meat courses by adding flavor and delicacy. The particular white roux one thickens any type of sauce.

Rice

Rice is a traditional Italian product from Vercelli widely appreciated also for its nutritional values. "Carnaroli" is a kind of rice that absorbs flavours and releases starch giving us a very creamy and light dip. "Ribe", parboiled rice, gives us a greater resistance to cooking. All the other rice varieties are perfect for salads and for "suppli", a traditional Italian snack.
